1. Cleaning and repairs to neglected bunkers on the Yugoslav-Hungarian Border were begun by the Yugoslav Army in August 1950. The bunkers are at present armed and occupied by Yugoslav Army units. Most of them are equipped with machine guns, and in addition the large bunkers also contain artillery weapons.
2. The bunkers are located at all the more important bridges over the Drava River and near highway communications leading into the interior of Yugoslavia. The bunker crews are in a constant state of alert.
